

Artist Name: Julie Fern

Genres: Folk, Singer/Songwriter, Roots

Based in Winnipeg, MB, Canada

Artist Bio:

A true songbird and storyteller— making music is simply in her nature.

Inspired by classic folk and roots music from the ages, julie channels the essence of folk through a unique lens...tinged with a familiar vintage hue.

Julie is currently residing in Winnipeg and working as an emerging independent folk singer/songwriter, with big dreams of sharing her music far and wide.

Tender and powerful, her voice echoes across the wilderness within, weaving together poetry and melody into more than a simple ditty—but a vivid and warm embrace.

Her work reflects a gift of songwriting as a mysterious means of making peace with the pains and uplifting the joys of life.

Julie's latest project in the works is entitled 'Deer Trails', a collection of original songs inspired by the beloved woodland prairie landscape near her home. 'Deer Trails' explores themes of pilgrimage, homecoming, freedom and the everpresent connection between the earthly and the ethereal. She is excited to share her music soon with your listening ears.
